Principal's Message

Engineering is fundamentally about solving problems. The ability to generate fresh, innovative ideas is the lifeblood of that process. An engineer's greatest tool is his creative mind, and it is our collective responsibility to cultivate an environment where every idea- no matter how small-is given space to grow and develop.

Embrace experimentation, learn from failures, and always remain inquisitive. I urge each one of you to see every class, lab, and project not just as a task to be completed, but as an opportunity to push the boundaries of conventional thinking. Transform your creative thoughts into real-world applications that will benefit society. This mindset of continuous ideation is a critical asset that distinguishes you in the professional world as a true changemaker.

Through this half-yearly edition of the college Newsletter 2025, I wish you success in all your future pursuits.

Dr. Ashok Kumar T

Purchase

The Department of Civil Engineering procured a Non-Destructive Testing (NDT) instrument under consultancy work, which is capable of analyzing the compressive strength of hardened concrete. The Rebound Hammer Test, a semi-automatic instrument manufactured by Labline, is a non-destructive method used to assess the surface hardness and estimate the compressive strength of concrete. It determines the concrete's strength quality by measuring the rebound of a spring-driven hammer mass impacting its surface.

The Maze of Time

Time is beautiful, a precious thing—

In moments of laughter, when memories cling,
With friends and family close by our side,
Creating memories, arms open wide.

But in the end, it slips away,

As one by one, loved ones stray.

The ache of loss, so hard to bear,

When someone we cherished is no longer there.

They were our strength, our guiding light,
From childhood's dawn to the present night.
They brought us joy, laughter, and tears,

And filled our hearts through the years.

To see them fade, to let them go,

Leaves us broken, feeling low.

For a moment, we wish to hold them tight,
To thank them for love, for making life bright.

But now their room sits cold and bare,
Their absence fills the silent air.

We hold back tears and pray above,

For peace to find them in realms of love.

The cycle turns, as life moves on, From birth to elder,
then we're gone. Time winds on in a maze unseen
Life and loss in a quiet routine.

Childhood Memories

Waking up early for school Before sun kisses the leaves.

Praying for heavy rain Acting sick to take leave.
Checking my backpack Was the major peeve.

Waiting for my friend

Summer, Monsoon or Cold.
Mangoes, jelly and candies Remind that special friend.
Turning pages, Busy class, Nonstop chattering at the end.

Ah! My mind is at peace

When I unfold that phase. Strawberry, mint pens;

Fresh wood cartoon books, Chorus of morning assembly,
Cooking and police games.

Events turned into stories;
Stories into glitter memories.
I miss my astronaut phase Inner child's empty space.
Heart was dreamy basket And sky was the limit.
